خلاصه مقاله:

India–Russian relations in the field of culture are historical. Days of Russian Culture were held in India in November 2003, in Delhi, Kolkata and Mumbai. Days of Indian Culture in Russia were organised from September to October 2005 in Russia. Chief Minister of National Capital Territory of Delhi led a delegation for participating in the event Days of Delhi in Moscow from 28 May 1 June 2006. The Year of Russia in India was held in 2008. It was followed by the Year of India in Russia in 2009. In this study, we propose some view of similarities between Indian and Russian culture
